

THINK ALL TRUCK BODIES ARE THE SAME? Then You Haven't Experienced A Marion.

Each is designed and built to serve very specific purposes for distinctly different industries and customers. The same exceptional durability is at the core of each and every truck body we deliver, and it's a durability you can count on: all of our Commercial Truck Body Products come with a five-year structural warranty.

We take time to ensure that every detail of our truck bodies gets the utmost attention and that they perform or outperform to very high standards. Even our components are chosen for optimum functionality and performance. We build your truck body from the ground up based on specific requirements, so you're never forced to compromise.

SPECIALTY COMMERCIAL TRUCK BODIES

If one of Marion's products doesn't meet your specification, we make it exactly to what you're looking for. Tell us what you need and we'll build it. We can customize your truck body with features such as rails, ramps, lifts, door options, access points, walls, interior and under body storage...whatever it is you need to make it perform for your industry and product.

HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT OF YOUR MARION COMMERCIAL TRUCK BODY

- Greater Maneuverability. Marion's bodies are made of premium aluminum and steel. Aluminum is lightweight and gives a truck a lower center of gravity, making it more maneuverable than others
- Greater Payload Capacity. Because of its light weight, you can carry more payload on a lighter, less expensive axle. And since the truck is less likely to run at its rated maximum GVWR, its components will last longer

- Added Strength. Marion bodies are fully extruded using state-of-the-art fabrication systems. Virtually every piece of material is CNC produced, not cut up on the production floor. Tensile strength is 105% stronger than 3003 sheet; 36% stronger than 5052 sheet
